THE OKLAHOMIANS.

A HEAVY RAINFALL THROUGHOUT THE TERRITORY.

The Governor's Suggestion in Regard to School Land Leases Adopted by Hoke Smith.

A Report From Washington That Colonel Thomas Moonlight of Kansas May be the Next Governor.

Delaney Smith, the Slayer of Barling, the El Reno Burglar, Acquitted—Death of the Second Chief of the Comanches—The Destruction of Live Stock by the Recent Storm in Cleveland County.

General Notes.

GUTHRIE, O. T., April 29.—[Special.]—Governor Seay left this morning. Secretary Martin will be acting governor in his absence.

Mrs. C. M. Barnes of Guthrie and Mrs. L. A. Gilbert of Oklahoma City have received commissions as lady managers of Oklahoma's world's fair exhibit. They would have left on Saturday had not been received from Executive Commissioner A. C. Scott, stating that the Oklahoma building was not finished.

Some time since Governor Seay wrote to Secretary Hoke Smith, recommending that school lands in the western counties be leased in tracts not exceeding 640 acres. Yesterday Commissioner Lamoreaux wrote the governor to lease the lands as he suggested. The lands so leased will be in G. Day, Mills, D and Washita counties.

Secretary Martin has issued charters to the First Presbyterian church at Tecumseh, the Autman, Miller Manufacturing company, the Kansas Moline Plow company, the Keystone Implement company, and the Nichols & Shipman company.

A national commission has been issued to E. L. True of Shawnee City, Pottawatomie county.

The new board of university regents met at Norman yesterday. The territorial board of education will meet on May 5 at the office of the territorial superintendent at 9 o'clock a. m.

There is a congregational convention being held at Hennessey.

Last night, at about 7:30 o'clock, clouds began gathering in the north and northwest. They drifted to the northeast. By this time people began seeking places of safety. The lightning was terrific, and the rumbling of thunder was continuous. Gusts of wind increased the terror. The storm rolled across to the south, and although a terrible rain and hail storm took place at 10 p. m., no damage was done. At Edmond, seventeen miles south of Hennessey, and near some of the houses and the streets were ponds of water.

News came from Ponca that a tornado struck eleven miles southeast of that place at Bliven's ranch. J. Keithler and his wife and two children were killed. Reports also came that a number of Indians were killed.

Chief Deputy Charles Madsen left Stillwater, in Payne county, at about 7 o'clock p. m. The storm was behind him, but the thunder was terrific, the lightning, blinding and the darkness like that of Erebus. The hail stones were of enormous size. One house was knocked down.

Deputy District Attorney Stone, who was with Mr. Madsen, looking out of the back of the carriage, his head turned upward, said: "I can see the hail stones a mile high." About that time one struck him on the mouth. Deputy Madsen says that he will be expected to stay some weeks. Reports are coming in that there has been destruction of life and property on the east of us.

To those who propose to build cyclone cellars, we would suggest that they build them at the southwest corner of their houses, with the opening at the northeast corner. Have as little as possible of roof above the surface of the surrounding country. Tornadoes usually come from the northwest or south.

The citizens of Guthrie have raised $2,000 in cash and a quantity of clothing. Junius Oldham and another gentleman left yesterday for Payne county to ascertain the amount of damage and to render assistance.

Oklahoma fully appreciates the kindly spirit of Wichita, which has tendered to Governor Seay. It is probable that we can provide for the present emergency.

A DEAD CHIEF. CHICKASAW, I. T., April 29.—[Special.]—Tobacco-ah-kah, a great Comanche chief, died here yesterday morning very suddenly, and under circumstances pointing to either poison or heart disease. He was a strong competitor with Quanah Parker, the recognized first chief, for the leadership of the Comanches. He came to this city Thursday evening with a number of Kiowas and spent the night here. Early in the morning they left the Kiowa band of Julius Doss and walked to the Rock Island depot. They purchased tickets to El Reno, O. T., and when the local passenger was made up they boarded it. All were in good spirits apparently, the old chief smiling as he proceeded to the coach. After being seated a few minutes with his interpreter, William Davis, a Kiowa boy, he suddenly threw his right arm to his throat, pulling his hat over his face, and at the same time placed his left hand on his breast, coughed lightly and expired.

Mr. W. H. Cleveland, a trader at the Andarko agency, being in town on business, was looked up. After a few minutes' conversation with the Indian attendant, he told them they would have to get a coffin and take the remains home. The information was wired to Indian Agent Hays, and he at once ordered the body brought to the agency.

Tobacco-ah-kah was the beloved chief, and even Paul G. Totto, the Kiowa, could not get over the loss of his race without shedding tears. Tobacco-ah-kah was 70 years old. The remains will be buried with due honors at the Fort Sill military cemetery.

Tobacco-ah-kah (meaning "He sees the sun") was a Yamparekita (root-eater), a band of Comanches who live on roots and berries. He was a progressive Indian and will be missed by his people.

Your correspondent was out eight miles north of this place to the scene of the cyclone yesterday evening, and counted thirty-one dead cattle. The path of the storm was about 150 yards wide, and every vestige of vegetation was destroyed. No human life lost near here. The ground was strewn with limbs of dead trees, boards, pieces of furniture, etc.

THE OKLAHOMA FACTIONS.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Strong indications are developing that Thomas Moonlight of Kansas may ultimately be appointed governor of Oklahoma. Just before the president left Washington L. F. Ross, chairman of the Democratic territorial committee, filed a statement directed against Sidney Clark, who has been considered the most formidable applicant for the appointment. In this statement Mr. Clark, ex-Governor Gilek, W. C. Jones, candidate for United States marshal of Kansas, and Congressman Springer of Illinois, are charged with having belonged to the association of "sooners," which started to capture the townsite of El Reno when Oklahoma territory was thrown open to settlement. These charges are directed against every man who has been urged by Mr. Clark's appointment as governor.

Mr. Springer is so far involved in them that Colonel Ross informs the president in this report that the appointment of a committee of congress will be asked for at the next session to investigate his connection with the "sooner" organization, the Illinois having been one of the most active advocates in congress of the opening of the territory. It is generally conceded that if President Cleveland considers the charges of sufficient importance to determine him in rejecting Mr. Clark, whose appointment was looked upon as almost certain, Colonel Moonlight will be the lucky man to be selected, as he will at once be strongly backed for the place, and stands in fairly good favor with the president, who appointed him governor of Wyoming during the last two years of his first administration.

EL RENO ETCHINGS. EL RENO, O. T., April 29.—[Special.]—Hon. John H. Pitzer has returned from the transmississippi congress which was held in Ogden, Utah, from the 24th to the 28th inst. Judge Pitzer reports a grand time, and from the tenor of the Ogden press he scored several points, carrying the house by storm, time and again with his matchless forensic display. John L. Dille of El Reno, territorial attorney for the Rock Island railroad, formerly recorder of the land office at Guthrie, was unanimously elected vice president for Oklahoma. Governor A. J. Seay was elected the member of the executive committee for Oklahoma.

This section of the territory escaped the fury of the past week's storm, and again withstanding last night's threatening aspect, we survive with a splendid rain falling today.

Delaney Smith, who last Tuesday morning shot and killed Jerry Barling, while the latter was attempting to effect an entrance into the rear of Smith's restaurant, was discharged today, after a preliminary hearing which has occupied several days, the killing being decided by the court to have been justifiable homicide.

Hon. John H. Burford, who has been in attendance on the supreme court in Guthrie, returned today. He reports fine rains in the eastern portion of the territory.

Chief Justice Jackson has returned from Lansing, Kan., where he safely landed four prisoners who were sentenced from Canadian county for offenses against the territorial laws.

A CONGRESS OF BANKERS. NEW YORK, April 29.—Rhode's Journal of Banking for May will contain the announcement that a world's congress of bankers and financiers is to be held in Chicago during the week from June 19 to 25, 1893. Lyman J. Gage, president of the First National Bank of Chicago will preside. The address of welcome to foreign delegates at the opening of the congress will, it is expected, be made by the Hon. John Sherman, who will be followed by an eminent banker of the United States with an address of welcome. There will come the introduction of delegates from foreign countries—England, Germany, France, Austria, Russia, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Japan, China and other nations.

Each delegate, it is expected, will take the opportunity to explain the conditions upon the banking systems, methods and resources and finances of his own land. These will be followed by other papers and addresses upon general monetary and financial topics.

During the progress of the congress there will be several conferences of experts in particular branches of banking and finance.

1. A conference of delegates appointed by the governors of the several states and territories and Canada to consider banking systems, methods of business, banking resources and general investments peculiar to each.

2. A conference of delegates from bankers' associations in the United States and Canada; also, from bankers and clubs. A delegate from the London Institute of Bankers is expected. Each banking association will send more than five delegates. The discussions will be upon the purposes of association of banks and the possibility of closer union.

3. There will be a conference of delegates from clearing houses in the United States and Canada to discuss the conditions on clearing house methods, and to formulate, if possible, some plan of union among clearing houses.

There will be a conference of bank examiners and accountants for all parts of the world, and of superintendents of banking departments under the several state governments.

These conferences will be held in separate rooms, during the progress of the congress, if necessary.

Those who desire to present papers at the congress, or who are entitled to take part in any of the conferences mentioned above as forming part of the congress, will address William Bull Green, secretary, 300 North Broad street, Elizabeth, N. J.

A TREASURY REFORM. WASHINGTON, April 29.—E. P. Baldwin, the first auditor of the treasury, has issued an order which will prevent favoritism in the examination of accounts. It has been the practice to make accounts special at the request of certain attorneys who have been doing business before the department, and thus burying them through the delay of their turn. This has worked a great injustice, and men who did not employ attorneys or could bring no influence to bear upon the office were compelled to wait many months for the settlement of their accounts. Under this system, some accounts were settled as soon as they were received, while others had to wait from three months to nearly two years. Under the new order of things the accounts must be taken up in the order in which they are received into the office, and no account is to be made special except upon the order of the head of the office, and this order is not to be given except in the event of some extraordinary emergency.

THE NORTH-SOUTH SCHEME. TOPEKA, Kan., April 29.—In compliance with a resolution of the Nebraska legislature a convention has been called for representatives of the states of North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Texas and the territory of Oklahoma to meet in Lincoln June 1 to take steps to secure the construction of a north and south railway from the northern boundary of the United States through the states named to the Gulf of Mexico. Kansas is entitled to fifteen delegates, and Governor Leavelle has named the following gentlemen as his delegates: Frank Weaver, Merwin Fred J. Cline, Troy, Walter N. Allen, Meriden, Ben S. Henderson, Winfield, John G. Olin, Topeka, A. A. Sargent, Madison, Dr. H. D. Pitzer, Topeka, J. W. Higgins, Beloit, F. S. Johnson, Phillipsburg, L. F. Drake, Parsons, C. E. Fiske, Hays, J. H. Hildreth, Lawrence, J. M. Leung, Kansas, Meriden, W. E. Henderson, Wichita, Robert Patterson, Olathe, Kan.

ST. LOUIS, April 29.—The inhabitants of East Carroll are becoming more and more frightened as the river continues to rise. Already the inhabitants of the little town of St. Louis are becoming more and more alarmed. A great many of the residents of East Carroll are in the second stage of their journey.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

ARRIVAL OF PRESIDENT CLEVELAND AT CHICAGO.

The Chief Executive Welcomed to the City by Governor Altgeld and Mayor Harrison.

The Old Liberty Bell Escorted to the Pennsylvania State Building by Oliver and Military Organizations.

The Duke of Veragua Given the Freedom of the City of Chicago—The Woman's Building Dedicated—Everything Expected to Be in Readiness for the Opening on Monday—The Michigan State Structures General Notes.

CHICAGO, April 29.—Martial music welcomed President Cleveland to the city at 12 o'clock, and 3,000 people assembled at the depot joined in the acclaim of welcome. The president was instantly recognized as he stepped off his car, and to the long and loud cheers that the crowd sent up, he returned a slight bow. A moment later he was received by President Palmer of the national commission and a number of other distinguished officials and citizens. The president was escorted by Governor Altgeld and Mayor Harrison, and to others of the president's official family and their wives the members of the reception committee acted as an escort. A line was formed and the march to the Lexington hotel commenced. Dense throngs of people lined the streets through which the procession passed and greeted the president and the secretary of state with many enthusiastic demonstrations. The president's rooms in the hotel were decorated in honor of his coming with flowers and plants of the brightest tints and with the national flag. There was also an array of plants, called the tribute of the states, each of which represented a state and was indigenous to the portion of the country it represented.

After lunch the president and his colleagues, led by President Higginbotham and other world's fair officials, entered carriages and drove to the state building at the depot. The president desired to go about the fair grounds and see the fair buildings quietly, and only as an individual so far as that might be possible.

This evening President Cleveland and Secretaries Carlisle, Herbert and Morton attended a theater as the guests of President Higginbotham.

THE LIBERTY BELL. Beneath leaden skies, in damp and chilly atmosphere, Pennsylvania's choicest relic, her great Liberty Bell, was today deposited within the walls of the state building at Jackson park. The bell, during its progress to the park, was the recipient of continual ovations. It was escorted by the highest officials of the state and the city, each of which represented a state and was indigenous to the portion of the country it represented.
